Carlyle Barnard, pastor of the First Christian Church, delivering the sermon on "Our Word." The faculty will honor graduating sophomores and their families at a reception in the cafeteria following the services.

Rev. Barnard received his Bachelor of Arts degree from William Jewell College and has done graduate work at Northwest Missouri State College. He serves as chairman of the Heart Fund and as membership chairman of the Downtown Lions Club. He is president-elect of the Ministerial Alliance.

The Rev. Robert A. Giezen-tanner, assistant minister of the First Presbyterian Church, will present the invocation. The Rev. Edwin B. Strong of Villa Heights Christian Church will pronounce the benediction.

Clair Goodwin Wins Sportswriter's Award

Clair Goodwin, Jr., received the annual sportswriter's award at Kansas State College, Pittsburg, May 10.

More Than Brick

"This will never be Joplin Junior College. Joplin Junior College is down at Fourth and Byers," declared an alumna at the recent banquet. "But why can't they get that building down? They're just removing a brick a day and I have to pass there and see it."

Apparently others feel the same way. Miss Ada Coffey and Harry C. Gockel have bought some of the bricks to build patios. Miss Coffey said "I just couldn't stand to see the bricks lost into oblivion, so I bought some." Gockel said, "After teaching there for 20 years, it's more than just a building being torn down."

Roi S. Wood, president of the College, said that the stones with the dates of the old building will be made into a memorial at the present site. He said, "They will either be incorporated into the building or placed on the lawn."

Some of the bricks may be found in all parts of the community. A building contractor purchased some to face new houses in the Harmony Heights housing addition. They will also face a new apartment building under construction at Fifteenth and Michigan.

Harold Hayes Drowns in Quarry

Harold Hayes, sophomore at Joplin Junior College, drowned Tuesday afternoon, May 8, in Reinmiller Road quarry, while swimming with four other Junior College students.

After an intensive hour-long search by the Shoal Creek fire department rescue unit, Roy Was-son, a scuba diver from Joplin, recovered the body from about 30 feet of water.

Hayes, who lived at 311 Pennsylvania in Joplin, was active in sports. He was a member of the state and conference champion golf squad. He was an outstanding member of the Lion basketball team, receiving honorable mention on the Interstate Conference team.

Hayes excelled in sports while attending Fayetteville, Arkansas, High School, and received honors in the Ozark Conference. He attended Kansas State College of Pittsburg last year where he played on the Gorilla freshman basketball team.

He was the son of Ralph Hayes and Lola Gean Carr of Fayetteville. His stepbrother, William (Bull) Hayes, was an outstanding football player at Joplin Junior College.

Other students swimming with Hayes were Pat English, who tried in vain to save him, Bob Newberry, Woodrow Lee, and Michael Boyington.

Funeral services were held Friday afternoon, May 12, at St. James Methodist Church in Fayetteville.

The athletic teams, the coaches, the Dean, and several other Joplin Junior College students attended the memorial services.

Participation Pays Off

Now that Spring floats through classroom windows to tell us that the school year has almost spent itself, we can look back and reflect upon the accomplishments of the year. We can recognize that the College has had two very interesting, active semesters of study as well as of extra-curricular activities, and that some changes have been made.

A change that resulted in immediate action was the spring voting on student body officers. Heretofore, the election has taken place in the fall. The election provoked much interest from students as well as from candidates, and proved to be a vivid illustration of students' interest in student government.

There are several participating factors in government: the candidates, the campaigners, the voters. But in a successful government, the functions of each of these individual factors combine to realize a common end. Government is instituted to serve the people. It is, therefore, only reasonable that people should agree on their government and work together to execute it.

After a close look at the recent student body elections, it seems that a promising year lies ahead for J.J.C. In the primaries at least three persons ran for all but one office. Ingenious campaigns provoked remarks that there seemed to be more interest and more initiative shown on both sides than in last fall's elections. And the voters acknowledged this by turning out at the polls in goodly numbers.

With such a good start, next year promises success indeed. We should show our appreciation of our governmental system by offering our further cooperation and participation to the elected officers, as well as to those who will be candidates next fall.

Listen...

With the spring of the year comes the close of school, along with Baccalaureate, Commencement exercises, and various other "lasts." The last Community Concert, the last Choir concert, and other events have been enjoyed by music lovers. An appreciative audience applauded Pat Ropp for her graduation recital May 6—the last of the year.

These are activities which take place seasonally, and unfortunately are more available between September and June than during the summer months. However, they are constantly being planned. The Community Concert programs for next year are complete. Music majors who plan to graduate next year will continue practicing and planning, as will the Choir.

Meanwhile, we still have radio and television by which to satisfy our cultural tastes, and they make themselves available merely for the listening.

One of the most popular programs for music lovers is "KSYN Concert in FM," a program by Richard Wirthman on Joplin's Radio KSYN-FM. Wirthman's plans for the next six weeks follow:

May 20 — "Pacific 231" by Honegger, Grieg Piano Concerto, and Beethoven Symphony No. 3 "Eroica."

May 27 — "Joan of Arc Mass" by Paul Paray, Mozart Piano Concerto No. 24, and "Sea Interludes" from "Peter Grimes" by Britten.

June 3 — "Masquerade Suite" by Aram Khatchaturian, Symphony No. 3 by Robert Schumann, and "Variations on a Theme Called Enigma" by Elgar.

June 10 — "Sinfonia Romantica" by Carols Chaves, "Burlques for Piano" by Richard Strauss, and "Victory at Sea" by Rodbers and arranged by Bennett.

June 17 — All Stravinsky program on his 80th birthday, music from 1910 to 1961.

June 24 — Goofs (Pieces we have cut or otherwise mutilated in the first six months of 1962), Handel's "Mater Music," "Iberia" by Albenia, "Second String Quartet" by Elliot Carter, and "Bou-tique Fantastique" by Rossini.

Kansas State College of Pittsburg has several musical events remaining on the calendar for May as well as a full summer schedule. Edward Gilham, baritone, will present his Senior Recital Sunday in McCray Auditorium. On Monday, honor student soloists and conductors will present the Annual Concerto and Area Concert, also in McCray Auditorium. Virginia Monteith, soprano, and Larry Sanborn, baritone, will give a Senior Recital Tuesday.

Summer session events have been scheduled as follows:

June 10 — Student Recital, David Harrington, clarinetist; June 27 — Faculty Recital, Gilbert Spector, pianist; July 9 — Graduate Recital, Sara Gilstrap, oboist; July 16 — Faculty Ensemble; July 25 — Student Recital, Helen Aiken, Mezzo-soprano; July 31 — Summer session String Orchestra.

So the summer holds ample opportunity for musical pleasure. All one has to do is "Listen..."

Dean Accepts Alumni Gift

Dr. Leon C. Billingsly

Robert Morrison

The Alumni presented their first gift to the College at the annual banquet, preceding an address by Dean Palmer. Outgoing Alumni President Bob Morrison is pictured above presenting "The Great Books of the Western World" and "The Syntopicon" to Dean Leon C. Billingsly.

Morrison introduced 1962-63 officers and new board members. Jack Holden will head the Association next year. Mrs. Suzanne Ranum Carter will serve as vice president and Mrs. Nadine Sturdy Clark as secretary. New Board members include: William Baum, Mrs. Janice Felker Booe, Linda Greathouse, Mrs. Suzanne Jackson Kell, Mrs. Elizabeth Robards Kemm, Mrs. Sally Elliff Miller, and Mrs. Judy Allen Stinnett.

Dean Palmer spoke on "Education in Ethiopia." He demonstrated his and his wife's experiences during the three years they taught school there with colored slides. Emphasizing the knowledge he gained from living in Ethiopia, Palmer said: "If all Americans could live in a foreign country, we would have a different America."

President Roi S. Wood reviewed the past 25 years of the College, and Bob Newberry related student activities of the year. The Choir sang several numbers, including: "To Thee We Sing" by Tkach; "Echo Song," Lasso; and "Alleluia."

Fads! Fads! Fads!

Have you noticed the new hairdo girls are wearing around Juco? Many say it resembles someone's head that has been shut in a door and comes to a point at the top. Others say that maybe the girls are smuggling tennis balls or golf balls from school. Severer critics call the stylists "skunks."

Whatever the reason, the fad is called "teasing" or "back combing" to make the hair have a bouffant look. This is accomplished by combing the hair the opposite of which it is usually done.

Girls, if you find anyone complaining that "your hair doesn't look combed," ask them to get out their grandmother's pictures when she was a young girl because the fad was in style then, believe it or not.

Area Musicians

Conduct Jazz Session

A group of musicians from the Joplin area conducted a survey of various techniques in jazz improvisation for Music Masterpieces classes and other interested students last week.

Participating in the session were Bill Pearson, trumpet; Eldridge Martin, piano; John McHenry, percussion; Robert Higgins, bass; Paul Jensen, saxophone; and Merrill Ellis, clarinet.

The performance was made possible by the Music Performance Trust Funds of the Recording Industries and through the cooperation of the Joplin Musicians' Association.

"The dowager (big red dog) wagged his tail."

"The iron was bucolic."

Ill Students Improve

During the year, illness forced at least three students to drop from enrollment. The three—Susie Hurn, Rodger Hough, and Warren Tune — are reportedly improving with all indications pointing to their return next fall. The recent Phi Theta Kappa initiation was the first school event that Warren has attended.

Scientist Emphasizes Value of Observation

"Any chemist always has to be a good observer," stated Dr. L. E. Malm in a recent lecture to science students in the Little Theater.

The National Science Foundation Visiting Scientist pointed out that the careful observer sees many unusual properties of substances and in trying to find out "why" he is able to chart regularities in the reactions of the elements.

College Intern On Joplin Council Reports Experiences

When I was appointed to serve an internship on the City Council of Joplin, I was completely ignorant of the functions of the Council. City Manager Don Harmon told me that the main purpose of my post was to observe the Council in action and understand what they did and why they did it.

After I attended a few meetings, I began to receive assignments to work on some of the items of business, including informal polls on various subjects and correspondence with people all over the United States vital to the investigation. It was very exciting to watch for my work on the floor of the Council.

I have enjoyed the internship. It has been interesting to watch the legislative action which the Council has taken to regulate and control the interrelationships of individuals. Many times heated discussions would arise over important or unimportant matters.

During these discussions, many opinions would be expressed. It was interesting to decide the action the Council should take on the subject in debate and then compare their action with my decision. I have the highest regard for these councilmen who many times sacrifice their own time, money, and interest for the purpose of better government in Joplin.

The experience, information, and knowledge that I have gained will be invaluable to me. I now have a working knowledge of the operation of city government. My only regret is that I have to discontinue this type of activity now. I hope to serve in this area later in life because the improvement of government is the duty and privilege of every United States citizen.

(Signed) Steve Sandy

Beverly Ellis and Kathryn Sumpter, also in the advanced class, recently qualified in 140-word dictation.

Cafeteria Staff Plans To Attend Meeting

Members of the Juco cafeteria staff will travel to Independence June 1 and 2 to attend the state convention of the Food Service Association. According to Mrs. Gyneth Dall, head of the College staff, Joplin women from the entire school system will make the journey and see Mrs. Louise Beckham, Joplin supervisor, installed as state president.

To qualify for a take, a student must transcribe the dictated material with at least 95 per cent accuracy.
